

A Remarkable Story of Faith

A Pax Christi Study Day

In 1943 Franz Jägerstätter, an Austrian peasant farmer, was executed for refusing to fight in Hitler's army. A devout Catholic, Franz believed he could not be faithful to Jesus and fight for the Nazis.

Pax Christi invite your school to this study day exploring the life and witness of Franz Jägerstätter, and what it can teach us about being a peacemaker today.

Keynote speaker is Severin Renoldner from Pax Christi Austria who has researched and written extensively about Franz. Severin is the Head of Education and Culture for the Diocese of Linz.

Ideal for GCSE and A-Level RE students, justice and peace groups, and others.

Friday 18 October 2013, 10am - 12.30pm
The Centre for Youth Ministry, 20 Phoenix Road,
Euston, London NW1 1TA

The day will be a mixture of talks, workshop activities, and a chance to share ideas and experiences of peacemaking.

We will gather from 10am with the formal input concluding at 12.30pm. For groups wishing to stay longer we will provide details of a local peace trail which will pass through a park which provides an ideal spot for lunch.
